Ashtabula Area City Schools Student Wellness Plan 2023-2025

AACS uses a whole child approach meeting students' social-emotional, physical and safety needs. Whole child strategies include providing integrated student supports, fostering relationship-centered learning environments and coordinating policies, systems and practices. A student-centered approach emphasizes the role of families and the community in providing safe environments and rich learning experiences.

For the school years, 2023-2025, the Ashtabula Area City Schools in collaboration with the following agencies, and after careful analysis of student and community data to determine student needs, gaps, and where to emphasize additional supports, will foster student achievement alongside supporting mental health and social-emotional wellness such as counseling, wraparound services, mentoring, and after-school programs.

AACS and these agencies work together to use state dollars to make the greatest impact on students' lives. This plan shall terminate no sooner than June 30, 2025.
